Chamber light judging set for December 21

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce has set the evening of Friday, December 21 for the judging of their annual Christmas Lighting and Decorating Contest. Make sure to have your lights turned on that evening and you could win a cash prize of $ 25, $ 15 or $ 10. Residential categories will be: Lights and Displays, Lights Only, and Apartments.

In the Commercial category, which includes interior decor of the businesses, a decision was made that only businesses which are members of the Chamber of Commerce will be considered for prizes.

The Town of Elk Point, with their handsome new decorations welcoming travellers along Highway 41, as well as on 50th Avenue and in the Main Street business district, has set an excellent example by brightening our community for the Christmas season. Let's all follow suit and make Elk Point a place that Santa just can't miss on his December 24 trip across the country!

Late shopping hours December 20 and 21

Elk Point and district shoppers will have two evenings of extended shopping hours to finish up all their Christmas buying. Thursday, December 20 and Friday, December 21 will see many local stores staying open until 9 p.m. for all those with last minute items on their lists.

Fishing Lake Plays Santa

Fishing Lake Metis Settlement Association brought an early Christmas gift to the Elk Point Hospital last week, when Gary Parenteau (centre) presented Hospital Administrator Clem Johnson and Director of Nursing Colleen Simon with a cheque for $ 5000 to be used for the purchase of a Dyna-map machine, which automatically takes and records blood pressure and pulse of a patient at preset intervals, which will enhance patient care by freeing the nurse in charge to do other necessary work with the patient. The Hospital administration was pleased to accept this very generous gift from the Settlement Association, and said the new machine will be helpful in providing care for all ages of patients.

Extravaganza fun for all ages

After three years plagued by cold weather, deep and blowing snow, Elk Point enjoyed perfect weather for last Friday evening's Christmas Extravaganza '90, with whole families turning out in large numbers to enjoy the entertainment and special events as well as to match up the shopping specials with the names on their Christmas lists.

Santa Was Surrounded...

Eager children listed their wishes, and assured him they had been good all year.

The new location for the huge bonfire, on a vacant lot at the intersection of 50 Avenue and 50 Street, was kindly loaned for the occasion by local merchant Doug McPherson, and proved to be ideal for the purpose. The setting was enhanced with snowy 'hills' created by the Town of Elk Point Public Works, who also hauled in the fire pit and provided wood for the cheery blaze, which was lit and cared for throughout the evening by the Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department. One of the 'hills,' which served as a backdrop for a sleigh loaned for the occasion by Ray Danyluk, sprouted a cheerful forest of Christmas spruce trees, courtesy of the Scouting Association, who were pleased to offer their 'portable forest' for sale to those who prefer a natural tree for their homes. The idea of holding the event on the new site was suggested by local resident Sally Vincent, and this proved to be an excellent move.

A flatbed farm trailer provided by Albert Boratyniec served as a stage for the fine local talent: Grace Meger, Henry Botting, Gwen Olson and Franklin Wolters, who sang and played a variety of songs, from Christmas carols to country and western to old time favorites, throughout the evening, for a large and enthusiastic audience.

Something very special was in store for the youngest Extravaganza visitors, in addition to their yearly visit with jolly old Santa, who appeared courtesy of the Elk Point and District Lions Club. Emily MacDonald of the Ferguson Flats area brought in her team of Husky sled dogs, her pit crew and her large freight sled and gave rides to a seemingly endless line of youngsters. Due to salt and sand on the streets, the rides were taken on a route of back alleyways, but the shadowy surroundings only added magic to the thrill of rushing over the packed trail behind the hardy dog team on a winter evening.

Four local groups who participated in the Extravaganza for the first time this year were the Elks Lodge and Pan Canadian Petroleum, who served endless pots of coffee and hot chocolate provided by the OORP, and the Elk Point Auto Club, who kindly manned the draw barrels for the three contests. Elk Point Farmers Market provided a pre-Christmas market for the early part of the evening, and saw a number of shoppers drop by to choose handmade crafts for unique gifts, or to stock up on Christmas baking. Elk Point Public Library extended their hours for that evening, for the convenience of their patrons. Radio LW was on hand to report on the proceedings, advertise some of the many specials, interview store personnel, and to preside over the contest draws which were made just before 11:00 p.m.

Olga Lawrence of Lindbergh was the winner of $ 300 Elk Point Bucks, redeemable for merchandise at the participating businesses, while Terry Rae won $ 200 Elk Point Bucks and Yvonne Klein, $ 100 Elk Point Bucks. Raemi Fischer was the winner of the Nintendo game, having solved the riddle correctly on her draw form, and a Lloydminster youngster, Amanda Lee Bernard, won the preschool Santa Sack filled with over $ 50 worth of assorted toys.

The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Extravaganza Committee would like to thank all the shoppers for coming out, and all the volunteers who made the event a great success.

Christmas Extravaganza Winners

Breakfast with Santa

Come out and have breakfast with Santa!

Elk Point and District Lioness Club are pleased to announce that their annual Santa's Breakfast will be held December 15 from 10:00 a.m. to noon at the United Church.. Santa will be available for photos and a small treat for each child.

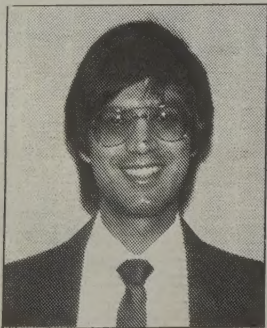

There is no charge for breakfast, however if you are able, a toy donation to Santas Anonymous would be greatly appreciated. Your support of Santas Anonymous allows those children less fortunate to enjoy the magic of the season.

Come with your family, meet your friends and neighbors and enjoy the spirit of Christmas!

Christmas Comes Early, Via Lioness Draw

Santa Claus paid an early visit to Adele Mandryk and Mike O'Neill last week, when the jolly elf and Lioness Holly Astill presented the couple with a trip for two to Mexico, following the Lioness Trip Of The Month Draw. The cash prizes for December went to out of town winners, with Fred and Gordon Hall of Lloydminster winning $ 100 and Ken and Liz Fisher of Canmore winning $ 50.

Christmas Bird Count

Every year since 1900 bird watchers in North America have been participating in annual counts of the birds living in their areas during the Christmas season. This year Elk Point will host its first Christmas Bird Count. All Bird Counts are conducted in an area which is 15 miles in diameter and are conducted during a twenty-four hour period. Elk Point's Count will be centred at Elk Point and will extend seven and a half miles in all directions from town and will be held on December 30, 1990.

Anyone can participate in the Christmas Bird Count. In fact, the success of the Count will be greatly improved if we have many people involved. All that is required from participants is an interest in learning about birds and in spending part of December 30 looking for birds. Of course, knowing how to identify birds is an asset but is not necessary as all participants will get a short course in how to identify the typical birds in our area. We will need two kinds of bird counters: feeder watchers and bird spotters. The feeder watchers simply monitor the birds that come to their feeders during December 30. The spotters will be formed into teams and given a segment of the count area to explore for birds.

For more information about the Elk Point Christmas Bird Count, contact Stephen Montgomery at 724-3800.

Jack and Jill Playschool would like to thank all of those who made our Santa's Pictures a success.

Special thanks goes to our Santa Denny Povoschuk and the photographer Lawrence Pidluzny, as well as to the Library for the use of their building. Also, we would like to thank Shutter-Bee for the developing and excellent rate.

Once again, thanks to all of you who supported this project. The profits will be used to purchase new and exciting toys for our playschool room.

In Our View

And greetings of the season

I've been wondering what was amiss with my world, this fall, and now I know. I hadn't been skiing yet. There is really nothing like a nice sunny winter day, and you're out there in the woods, or along the edge of a field, making tracks on the pristine snow, cutting through the blue shadows, noting the animal tracks here and there. The air is clean and cold, and the sky can be wonderfully blue.

I went out late, near to sundown, today, so the shadows were especially long, and the golden fingers of sunlight reaching between the trees were sparkly and warm. There was one partridge track, several coyote trails, and some small animal, probably a squirrel. Of course the yard is crisscrossed with squirrel paths, as they scurry about, swiping the birds' seeds, gathering the scraps I put out, and possibly trying to search out all those toadstools, spruce cones and the like that they hid away last summer.

The small birds' tracks don't show much, in the soft loose snow we have just now. Actually, I see very few birds, compared to some winters. I've been feeding, to date, two blue jays, one hairy woodpecker and seven or eight chickadees. At least one raven passes over once in awhile, I think he has his headquarters over east from here, but he never comes in my yard to eat. Earlier, before I started putting out food, a flock of evening grosbeaks came in a few times, to clear off my maple trees, and with them, a few pine grosbeaks, only four or five. They helped them out on the maples and then worked on the seeds on the lilac bushes.

I believe they may be able to take out the lilac seed, and leave the shell; at least there is quite a bit of stuff still there.

Another sign that this is the best part of winter, to me, is that I've almost finished preparing my Christmas cards and letters, and now they will be off to the post office posthaste. (I received my first Christmas card of the season, last week, all the way from England! With a letter, too, that made me feel good.)

A bit on Christmas cards, possibly the thing on many people's minds just now. These are a fairly new phenomenon, with records of handmade cards exchanged, first by personal delivery, then through the mails, back about 1820. The postal officials of the time were a mite upset, complaining that they had to put on extra workers to handle them. But some people liked them, and continued to send them out. In 1822 a postal superintendent in the United States foresaw future bottlenecks, since he'd had to hire sixteen extra hands. "I don't know what we'll do if this keeps up," he complained, in alarm, to Congress.

The first commercial Christmas cards were designed by an English artist, in 1843. Of the 1,000 created, 12 exist today, held in private collections.

The artist, John Calcott Horsley, was commissioned to create a nice greeting card, by a wealthy Britisher, Sir Henry Cole, to send his friends. Cole's desire was to "beautify life". Horsley created a card, a 'trptych' (a design on three panels, made to stand up) depicting the feeding of the poor on one side, the clothing of the naked on the other side, with a family feasting and happy in the middle.

The inscription words were "Merry Christmas and a Happy

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

New Year to you". It may be noted that the meaning of the word 'merry', in those days, was 'blessed'. (NOT 'making whoopee', as it seems to be today.)

The exchange of Christmas cards caught on fast in England, later became popular in Germany, but it was not until some thirty years later that North America succumbed wholeheartedly to the mania of sending Christmas cards. This has not let up at all, and received a good boost when the importation of inexpensive printed cards from Germany became fashionable.

Following the First World War, the industry of Christmas cards flourished in the U.S.A., and continues strong.

Estimated exchange of Christmas cards, in the United States alone, here in the '90s, is over 2 billion annually. We are no slouches at it in Canada, either, but couldn't find a believable estimate on that.

But just think of all the jobs it creates, in artwork, paints and dyes, writing, lumbering, paper-mills, ink factories, stamp mills, to say nothing of all of the Postal extras, equipment and manpower to move them from me to you!

Then, too, just maybe, they do bring some sunshine and love into our lives, to brighten this very dull part of our year; and always, to bespeak the joyful Christmas message, of Peace on Earth, and the Tidings of Great Joy. Certainly one of our more worthwhile customs, especially if enclosed are sincere sentiments, love and good wishes.

Eventually, the 'save the forests' syndrome will hit at the Christmas card custom, it will be reviled and discouraged. Maybe then we can adopt the custom of saving the cards, year to year, and truly "exchange" them with our loved ones, over and over.

Gag reflex over GST

The proposed initiation date for the much debated Goods and Services Tax approaches, ever nearer, casting a cloud over the 1990 festive season. While no one is quite sure to what extent this will change our lives, almost everyone is sure that they don't want to find out.

It's somewhat like having a new virus going around. You know you're almost sure to catch it, but you aren't sure how bad it will be, and if there will be any long-lasting effects, whether you will then become immune or whether this could become a chronic ailment.

Our reaction to the proposal is not too different to that displayed by a child who is told he or she must take medicine to recover from an illness. Most of us are familiar with the tantrums, stubborn resistance, struggling and caterwauling it is sometimes necessary to deal with before the medicine goes down. Maybe the medicine doesn't even taste bad—the child has no idea. It's just the idea of having something forced upon one that brings on the old gag reflex. Whether it will "make things all better" is the farthest thing from the child's mind. The dreaded medicine is all that can be thought of at the moment, and resistance is the only way to prolong the minute when it is finally thrust between the clenched jaws.

Do you see the resemblance? None of us care to have something thrust upon us, and this time they've even forgotten the sugar to take the bad taste out of our mouths.

Sometimes, as our grandparents used to tell us, the cure is as bad as the disease.

Just Wanting To Get The Facts

What's news at the library?

Christmas time is fast approaching. Look for our display of Christmas books in the library. The Christmas preschool storytime party will be held on December 21, 1990. We are hoping for a visit from Santa Claus. Be sure to mark your calendar. This is a very popular event for preschool children.

We would like to thank the Elk Point and District Agriculture Society for their donation. The Royal Canadian Legion has donated the video "CANADA'S MILITARY HERITAGE". This video is not intended to glorify war; instead it demonstrates the high price paid by so many Canadians for our current peace and freedom. We would like to thank the Legion for this addition to our video collection.

NEW BOOKS:

Bob Vila's "THIS OLD HOUSE" serves as a model for anyone interested in the nuts and bolts of renovating any old building, whether one expects to tackle a whole house renovation or just to improve isolated parts of a house. A practical tool and idea book.

Four mystery books by Eric Wright: "A SINGLE DEATH", "A BODY SURROUNDED BY WATER", "THE NIGHT THE GODS SMILED" and "SMOKE DETECTOR".

A book containing the novels of Dashiell Hammett: "RED HARVEST", "THE DAIN CURSE", "THE MALTESE FALCON", "THE GLASS KEY" and "THE THIN MAN".

"THE DISCOVERERS" by Daniel J. Boorstin is a vivid, sweeping and original history of man's greatest adventure: his search to discover the world around him, the relationship of the heavens to his own planet, the elusive and mysterious dimension of time, the vast and colorful range of plants and animals.

"THE OXFORD ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY", edited by John McManners. This richly illustrated book tells the story of Christianity from its origins to the present day. Written by a team of scholars, all authorities in their fields, it spans 2000 years of colourful incidents to give a history of Christianity for the general public.

VIDEOS:

Two new videos of Shirley Temple for our video collection are:

"STOWAWAY": When a little girl's missionary parents are killed by Chinese bandits, the child must fend for herself on the dangerous streets of Shanghai. Running time is approximately 86 minutes and it is in black and white.

"THE POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL": A little girl gets everything she wants, except attention from her show biz father. But when she runs off to become part of Alice Faye and Jack Haley's singing and dance act, everyone pays attention. Approximately 72 minutes and in black and white.

Volunteers raise funds

Irene Magnusson

Elk Point

Caroline Onusko has been a diligent worker, in bringing a little joy and entertainment into the lives of Extended Care patients at the Elk Point Municipal Hospital. One of her tasks is to raise funds for some of the minor expenses, used in creating interesting activities, to help the long hours pass more agreeably, for long term patients.

And what better fund-raiser than a bazaar-type sale, where donated articles find a new home?

November 23, a Friday, was chosen, fortunately before the heavy snowfall, and with the assistance of other helpful persons, and the use of the Hospital Meeting Room, a nice sale was arranged.

Volunteers in the neighborhood include Irene Lindquist, Sharon Kuhn, Blandine Adkins, Polly Chomlak, Carol Hellquist, the hospital staff, and of course Caroline.

Articles are donated, both new and used, coffee and snacks are available, and an enjoyable afternoon is offered for customers.

The turnout was a bit smaller this year than usual, Caroline estimated, but not too disappointing. Goods on offer were varied, with many children's playthings the main donations received.

This is an annual event, being offered now for 5 or 6 years, and the proceeds are used for such items as outings for the Extended Care patients, prizes for games and contests, birthday gifts and favors on special days, etc. That this exercise in caring for others is continued, year after year, makes one proud to be a part of our friendly neighborhood group, who go out of their way to make life a little easier for others. Thanks, gals, for spreading your bit of sunshine.

GST?

THIS WEEK
YOU ASKED
THE GST
CONSUMER
OFFICE.

Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?

A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.

Q: My son has figured out it will cost $500 in lumber to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber cost with the proposed GST?

A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.

Q: I know the proposed GST won't apply to city bus fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?

A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

We're here to answer your questions about how the GST will affect prices. Call us toll-free Monday to Friday 9am-9pm. Ask for your free copy of the "Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices."

Youth Drop-in Centre re-opens

Attention everyone ages 11 to 14! The Youth Drop-In is back! Everyone who participated in the Community Services Youth Drop-In will remember all the activities and music and videos that we enjoyed. We're looking forward to seeing new faces so bring a friend. This year the Drop-In will be held on Mondays from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Community Services Building.

Will That Be Smoking Or Non-Smoking?

Kids aren't born smokers or non-smokers. It's something they decide for themselves as they grow up. But a lot of outside factors influence that decision. One of the most significant of these being the advice and knowledge they receive from the adults in their lives. In fact, just explaining the dangers of smoking and its addictive nature, can often be enough to tip the scales. So don't take it for granted that kids understand why they shouldn't smoke. Before they decide, make sure they have all the facts.

Province Wide Winners

Tannis Klein and Melissa Easthope of Elk Point Elementary School were province wide winners in a Farm Safety Poster Contest sponsored by Alberta Agriculture and Alberta Power. Solomon Kyere-manteng, Manager of the Farm Safety Program at Alberta Agriculture (right) and Nick Glych of Alberta Power, St. Paul, were on hand to present the girls with their awards.

Countdown to Christmas

Christmas is really creeping up on us! Just two weeks to go, and the calendar is crammed with events to attend, as well as all the things we have to do to prepare for the holidays. Here is a reminder of some of the upcoming events:

Community Choir Concert

Elk Point Community Choir presents their first Christmas Concert at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 12 in the Elk Point Elementary School Gym. Everyone welcome.

Breakfast With Santa

The annual Lioness Breakfast With Santa is scheduled for Saturday, December 15 from 10 a.m. to noon, in the United Church Hall. Bring along your last minute donations for Santas Anonymous.

Lions and Elks Children's Christmas Party

Elk Point and District Lions Club and Elk Point BPO Elks Lodge will be holding their annual Children's Christmas Party on Saturday, December 15 at the Elks Hall, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Special guest Clarence Smith, with his songs of the season, will be in attendance.

Baptist Church Concert

Elk Point Baptist Church will be holding their annual Christmas Concert at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, December 15. Everyone is invited to come for a joyful celebration of the season.

Christmas Cantata

Elk Point United Church will present their Christmas Cantata on Monday, December 17 at 7:30 p.m. Coffee and snacks will be served.

Christmas Light Judging

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will be judging their annual Lighting and Decorating Contest on the evening of Friday, December 21, so be sure to turn on your lights! You could win a prize!

Memories for sale

Just in time for Christmas, a new and exciting gift idea has become available in the Elk Point and St. Paul areas, thanks to the creative efforts of local filmmaker Vincent Behr of Birch Hills Enterprises, Elk Point.

Behr is well known for his videotapes of local events, a number of which have been shown on Elk Point's local cable TV channel in the past. He has also made a number of custom video tapes of everything from weddings and graduations to a project involving retaping a movie film of the official opening of the original Elk Point Bridge in the late 1940s, with the addition of still photos and recorded speeches from that occasion.

This fall, he turned his talents to the recording of a modern-day reenactment of an old time harvest, complete with vintage machinery, which was held on the farm of John and Marlene Malachowski. The hour and a quarter film begins with a glance into the past—a number of harvest time photographs from the early days of the century, including one of Gary Algot's grandfather threshing with a steam tractor, set to the music of Barbra Streisand's "Memories," a very apt choice for this nostalgic collection of scenes.

Taping began in September, when John Malachowski pulled his elderly McCormick Deering binder out of the bush and started getting it ready for yet another harvest, replacing reel slats, buckling on the canvases, oiling and adjusting the sort of machine commonly seen at harvest half a century ago. Pulled by a small McCormick tractor, the binder was soon out in the field, dumping loads of bundles at brief intervals as the ripe stand of grain fell before its knife. Then came the stookers, with family and friends pitching in to set the sheaves in the familiar cone-shaped groups to dry for threshing.

Behr returned to the Malachowski farm a few weeks later, to record the starting of the big steel wheeled McCormick Deering 15-30 tractor, which was originally purchased by Harry Leaf Sr. from Al-got Implements in Derwent in 1929, and was carefully restored by Harry Leaf Jr. in 1984. This fall, the well kept machine responded to a few turns of the crank, and was soon towing the threshing machine out to the field. Belts were put on and adjusted, the grain spout was poised over an old wooden grain tank wagon, and a crew pitched the sheaves from the stooks onto a bundle rack for transport to the thresher. There, two spike pitchers heaved the bundles into the feeder chain of the clanking, rumbling thresher, as golden straw formed a growing pile on the ground alongside and grain poured into the waiting wagon.

Harvest is always a time for reflection among those who have been in the farming business for a long time, and this video has captured the way of the past in a heartwarming fashion which is sure to bring back memories to those who "remember when..." as well as to show today's youngsters, and tomorrow's, the way their grandparents and great grandparents gathered in their crops.

"Harvest Memories" is available at the Lakeland Review in Elk Point and at Loree's TV, St. Paul.

75th Birthday Marked

Andy Zazulak was joined by wife Minnie and sister Virginia Smereka, plus other family members and friends as he marked his 75th birthday.

Bullies win again

On December 1, 1990 the Elk Point Bullies played another home game against Bonnyville, defeating them 21-7. The Elk Point Bullies had a full roster of players again with 19 players in attendance. Goal scorers this week for the Bullies were Aaron Simon (7 goals), Kent Bjornstad (6 goals), Curtis Croteau (2 goals), Adam Kleeberger (2 goals), Ryan Hahn (1 goal), Jesse Kozicky (1 goal), Mathew Kutryk (1 goal) and Melvin Easthope (1 goal).

This year the Micro Novice team is doing very well considering the team had 14 newcomers, with only 5 existing players from previous years.

Family marks birthday

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point

"SURPRISE!" rang out the welcome, as Andy Zazulak, the very surprised 'Birthday Boy' entered the Empress dining room, accompanied by his equally surprised wife Minnie, and his far-from surprised sister, Virginia Smereka, who had engineered the family birthday party for her brother.

Andy had forgotten that his 75th birthday was coming close, and the joyful wishes for a "Happy Birthday!" ringing out from the crowd of family members assembled left him a bit flabbergasted. After all, he had thought it only a party of five he and his wife were joining, and he hadn't been too enthusiastic about that either. Virginia had to pester and cajole, in persuading him to leave his cosy living room at all, on this very cold November 24th night.

Due to a few minor delays the sparklers on the cake were all twinkled out before the guest of honor arrived, but there was still the ingeniously decorated birthday cake, a huge square, decorated with the trees, fences, livestock, flowers, buildings, all the insignia of a farmyard, including the dog, representing the farm surroundings Andy has known all his life, before coming to live in Elk Point a few years ago.

Only Virginia, of the 10 remaining brothers and sisters in the Zazulak family, was able to attend, but there were his children, and grandchildren and their families, in numbers, coming from such diverse places as Viking, Edmonton, Spruce Grove, St. Paul, as well as the many from the Elk Point area, and included some of Minnie's family, the Yaceys. One Zazulak sister is deceased.

Games, jokes and songs intermingled and followed the delicious meal invariably served by the Empress, with a 'fun' gift from Virginia offered, of a necklet of garlic bulbs, since Andy's fondness and belief in the health-protecting powers of garlic is family knowledge. He accepted it graciously. Entertainment included an offering of "Grandpa Tell Me About the Good Old Days", by some of Andy's grandchildren, also well received.

The evening proved to be good fun, and Andy will probably never believe a thing his sister tells him again. At least, he will be suspicious.

Now all he has to do is brace himself for what may befall on December 13th, his ACTUAL birthdate.
